SUMMER THEATRE ARTS RENDEZVOUS 2016

It's time to register for

PERSEVERANCE THEATRE
Summer Theatre
Arts Rendezvous!

Summer Theatre Arts Rendezvous (STAR), Perseverance Theatre's five-week youth acting program, provides theatrical training and performance opportunities to students who are excited about theatre.

It's time to register for Perseverance Theatre's Summer Theatre Arts Rendezvous! Work with local and out-of-town professional directors and designers on one of three exciting shows. Rehearsals and classes begin June 27. This five-week program is perfect for young actors who are committed to theatre and performance. As a theatre training program, STAR is a great opportunity for young people with little experience. In addition to rehearsals, students will participate in daily workshops on voice, movement and acting technique. Students aged 10-18 will perform one of three plays: the musical Singin' in the Rain JR., a modern adaptation of Sophocles' Antigone, or Extreme Theatre!, an original piece using improvisation, physical theatre, and playwriting.

STAR runs June 27 through July 31. Tuition is $450.

THE PLAYS

SINGIN' IN THE RAIN JR.

Adapted by Betty Comden and Adolph Green from their original screenplay
Songs by Nacio Herb Brown
Lyrics by Arthur Freed

Join director Dawn Kolden in this humorous and uplifting story about love and stardom. As silent films are being replaced with talkies, starlet Lina Lamont is faced with the challenge of making her nasally, high-pitched voice more appealing to the ear. A different arrangement is worked out when fellow actor, Don Lockwood, convinces their film producer to hire another actress he admires, Kathy Selden.

ANTIGONE

Adapted by Greg Banks from Sophocles' play of the same title

Join director Doniece Gott in a modern and lively retelling of Sophocles' Antigone, the tragic story of a young woman's fight for justice. The unshakable Antigone, determined to give her deceased brother a proper burial against the orders of her equally headstrong uncle, must confront a steadily darkening fate. This play addresses morality, family, sacrifice, and rebellion.

EXTREME THEATRE!

Seattle-based actor and playwright K. Brian Neel brings his extreme talents to Juneau for the STAR program. He uses physical improvisation to create bold and visionary theatre performed all over the world. Join him in combining physical theatre, Viewpoints, playwriting, and improvisation to create an extreme devised show.
